

From the President:

The holidays are here and my head is still spinning with the thought of much to do..... It is a time to reflect on the SGC accomplishments and programs this past year and feel good that we have made a difference in our community.

Our October General Meeting was inspiring with Peter Seligmann speaking on 'Keep Earth Alive.' As he stated: "A healthy earth is a common ground for every citizen and the greatest legacy we can give to the next generation is conservation." It is important to think globally, to act locally and now to 'do' personally.

At the Monday Horticulture meeting we were presented with wonderful ideas of 'Flower Arranging for the Holidays'. We came away with great ideas and appreciate Lucile Flanagan, Pru Hammett, Susan Pollock, Judy Thomas, Mary Turner and Iris Wagner for their inspiring arrangements.

There was a second workshop on digital cameras with Michele Burton which was another worthwhile learning experience. Also, Patsy Pattison's computer class was a great help to members needing assistance. Last was the Succulent Wreath-Making Workshop put on at Ann Groff-Smith's home – such fun and just in time for the holidays.

Thank you to the following for being part of these various events:

Margi Allison, Carol Eland, Mary Kay Fitzgerald, Ann Groff-Smith, Jane Harder, Eleanor Nolan, Patsy Pattison, Charlee Reed, Catherine Roach and Peggy Wilton.

A GOOD TIME TO CONTRIBUTE

Before year end, consider a contribution to one of the many GCA Funds (Founders, Scholarship and Endowment), to our own Seattle Garden Club Endowment Fund, or to our Seattle Garden Club fundraisers (Holiday Auction, et al).

As you know, there are several choices for giving that may interest you and members of your family. Descriptions can be found on the GCA website, or you may call our own SGC member, Lyn White, who as a Zone XII representative on the GCA Scholarship committee, will gladly answer your questions.

Call Debbi Wilson, your treasurer, for the necessary forms.

Seattle Garden Club Presents

"It's Magic"

A Small Flower Show
May 17 - 19, 2007

We all need to be involved to make this a magical event. Please consider volunteering - there is a spot for each and everyone of us. (May 17 will be the set up days with the judging on May 18). Thank you.

Questions?

Call Iris Wagner or Pam Green

It is with sadness that we inform you of the following deaths:

Mary Ellen Field Allen was an Honorary Life Member having joined the SGC in 1940. She was an avid gardener enjoying both flowers and vegetables.

Florence Carroll Riley Walker was an Active Member having joined the SGC in 1993. At one time she served as our enthusiastic Horticulture Chairman and was always involved with SGC projects.

Our thoughts are with their families as they will be deeply missed.

COMMUNITY PROJECTS UPDATE

Completed Projects:

Vivarium Nurse Log at the Olympic Sculpture Park, SW corner of Elliott and Broad Streets. Special tours available until official opening on January 20 & 21. Look for the "Green Glass House"!

Bellevue Botanical Gardens' new "Lost Meadow Trail", part of the 17 acres adjacent to the garden that our donation helped purchase. Watch for the large granite boulder and explanatory panel with name of Seattle Garden Club.

'In Progress' Projects:

Design phase for the Woodland Park Rose Garden Pergola is almost complete. Building will begin in March.

IslandWood's Garden Classroom Project, which our grant helped support through the Miller Foundation, is serving every student and teacher who visits IslandWood. The organic garden is a gathering place that inspires and encourages taking lessons learned back to their own communities by creating gardens in their schools and neighborhoods. Visitors are welcomed. Call Ben Klasky, Director @ (206) 855-4364.

LET'S TAKE PRIDE IN OUR ACCOMPLISHMENTS AND PARTICIPATE IN OUR FUNDRAISING AUCTION AT THE HOLIDAY LUNCHEON.

1. The first step in the process of identifying a problem is to define the problem. This involves identifying the symptoms of the problem and determining the scope of the problem. Once the problem has been defined, the next step is to identify the causes of the problem. This involves identifying the factors that are contributing to the problem and determining the underlying causes. Once the causes have been identified, the next step is to develop a plan of action. This involves identifying the steps that need to be taken to solve the problem and determining the resources that will be needed to implement the plan. Finally, the last step in the process is to implement the plan and monitor the results. This involves putting the plan into action and tracking the progress of the solution. Once the problem has been solved, the final step is to evaluate the results and determine if the solution was effective. This involves comparing the results of the solution to the original problem and determining if the problem has been solved. If the problem has not been solved, the process may need to be repeated.

1. The first step in the process of the investigation is to identify the problem. This is done by the investigator who is assigned to the case. The investigator will then gather information about the problem and the people involved. This information will be used to determine the cause of the problem and to develop a plan to solve it.

Shirley Meneice Workshop

October 14 - 17, 2006

By Diana Neely

The Shirley Meneice Workshop was a pleasure from sunny start to rainy finish! We visited three Dupont estates, Longwood, Winterthur & Mt. Cuba.

The bog workshop resulted in a bog garden which I carried home on the plane! It is pictured at the bottom of the page. Looks better in real life!

The first morning we divided into zone meetings to exchange ideas. Within Zone XII, one club grew pumpkins and one grew lettuces from seed. The lettuce club had a luncheon with their lettuce. The largest pumpkin grown from seed was awarded a pumpkin soup tureen with soup bowls to match. Pasadena had a challenge class to grow a yellow Rosa Julia Child. Denver sold bulbs for a mini fundraiser. Portland had 'Gardens To Go' planted by local celebrities and their members. It was discussed not to buy Cypress Mulch. One Portland Club Member talked about a mulching mower.

HORT TIP!! Plant flat side of tulip bulb to back of pot so the bloom will face the front. A recommended read was 'California Native Plants' by Carol Bernstein.

We had a wonderful inspiring lecture by Rick Darke on the American Woodland Garden, 'Capturing the Spirit of the Deciduous Forest'. His website is www.rickdarke.com.

David Culp gave two speeches: Why I like Winter Gardening and The New Faces of Hellebores.

At Mt. Cuba, we learned that Mrs. Copeland planted under her lilacs 2000 pansies in colors that matched her lilacs. She had her lilacs pruned to nose level so she could smell them as she walked down her lilac alley.

Phoebe was re-united with her kindergarten classmate, whom she had not seen for years. We appreciated going together and recommend the Shirley Meneice Workshop to anyone who has the opportunity!

Hort Starts

Reminder: January 8th Horticulture Meeting at Carol Henderson's 9:30am Coffee, 10:00 Meeting. We are happy to welcome Provisional Catherine Allan to speak on Botanic Latin integrated with her experiences interning in Yorkshire, England in a Royal Horticulture Society Garden at Harlow Carr.

Camellias can be classified in one of 5 types:

- Sasanquas (blooming as of late October & November until early Spring)
- Japonicas (They have been in cultivation more than 2,000 years)
 - Some are fragrant
- Reticulatas 'Retics' Aristocrats of the Camellia World
 - Did you know the blooms can be 5-7 inches across?
 - Reticulatas -Pink C.r. 'Winter's Own' is pictured top left
- Hybrids
 - Some are fragrant like 'Sweet Emily Kate' hybridized with C. Japonica and C. lutchuensis
- Species
 - C. oleifera seeds, left center photo, are crushed for oil beneficial to skin and scalp.
 - C. lutchuensis is most sweetly fragrant.
 - C. nitidissima syn. corymbosa is a beautiful yellow, pictured left.

Making your own Tea from Camellia sinensis is Easy !

Green Tea is made from Camellia sinensis steamed and dried leaves. Fresh leaves are picked from the new growth of Camellia sinensis. They are then bruised and allowed to wilt in the sunlight or in warm air. They are then rolled, twisted and bruised. Firing or heating the leaves at this point results in Green Tea.

Oolong Tea is made from partially fermented Camellia sinensis leaves. This method is to allow tea to oxidate only partially so that some of the fresh flavors of green tea and some of the deeper flavors of the black tea are combined. Firing at this point results in oolong tea.

Black tea is made from Camellia sinensis leaves that have been fermented then dried. Leaves that are allowed to sit for longer periods of time after being rolled, twisted and bruised will turn black due to oxidation. Oxidation darkens the color of the leaves but also allows them to develop new flavor compounds commonly known as tannins. Firing stops the process and black tea results.

How are your Babies growing?

Yes your camellia propagations!

Tip: Water but don't fertilize

Orange Pekoe is a classification of black tea based on the origin of the leaf. To be classified as pekoe, the tea must be composed purely of new flushes—a flush being the flower bud plucked with two youngest leaves (Any other leaves produce teas of lower quality.) A common misconception is that Orange Pekoe is a type of tea with an orange flavor.
